

Global Health Diplomacy Workshop

3 – 5 December, 2018

Department of Global Health Policy, University of Tokyo, Tokyo, Japan

Institute for Global Health Policy Research, Bureau of International Health Cooperation, National Center for Global Health and Medicine, Tokyo, Japan

Human Resource Strategy Center for Global Health, National Center for Global Health and Medicine, Tokyo, Japan

1) Objectives

Global health, defined as issues that directly or indirectly affect health that can transcend national boundaries, needs a pooling of experience and knowledge and a two-way flow between developed and developing countries. Global health is a global political engagement at the intersection of health, diplomacy and global collective action.

In May 2016, Japan hosted the first G7 Summit since the adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals and the end of the Ebola crisis in west Africa in 2014—Japan requires a group of experts in global health diplomacy consisting of stakeholders with diverse expertise to move the global health agenda forward. The G7, along with the World Health Assembly (WHA), could once again advance the global health agenda and strengthen health systems at global and national levels by identifying joint actions that contribute to the development of comprehensive cooperation in global health.

This workshop aims to:

1. Develop and strengthen the capacity of the next generation of leaders in global health diplomacy with a special focus on the changing landscape and context in global health and practical applications to health diplomacy at major meetings such as the WHA, G7 and G20
2. Strengthen a network and partnership in collaboration with key stakeholders both within and outside Japan; and
3. Build capacity to prepare effectively for WHA and board meeting of international organizations.

2) Target participants

1. Young and middle career professionals who will attend upcoming or future WHA or any other board meeting of international organizations. They are expected to be well prepared for the board meetings of WHO and other international organizations, as well as to be actively

- participate into the meetings through its preparatory process.
2. Young and middle career professionals who are in charge of global health policy at each organization). They are expected to well translate global health policy into their respective activities at regional, national and community level.
